

KELLY COMPANY PAYS HEAVY FINE

Pleads Guilty to One Indictment, and Others Are Dismissed.

Pleading guilty to one indictment of four, in which it is charged with defacing internal revenue stamps, the Kelly Company, Inc., mail order house and wholesale liquor dealers, was fined $1,000 and costs yesterday in the United States District Court by Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr. With the consent of M. K. Lowry, collector of internal revenue for the Fourth Virginia District, the remaining indictments were held pressed.

District Attorney, L. L. Lewis appeared for the government, while the defense was represented by Attorney Harry M. Smith. Agreement to compromise the case was reached between counsel, and the matter then submitted to the court.

This ends the case. The Kelly Company was placed on probation several months ago, and the hearing consumed more than a week. When finally submitted the jury was unable to agree. At that time the defendant was tried upon only one indictment, embracing more than 100 counts.

The compromise of the case has been expected for some time. Efforts were made by counsel for Kelly to end the litigation and effect a compromise, and after much deliberation the matter was finally adjusted. The fine imposed was paid.

It was explained that the indictment on which the company pleaded guilty related to what is claimed to have been merely a technical violation of the law.

DR. HARSHBARGER QUITS CITY HOME

Resigns to Practice on His Own
Account at Weyer's Cave, Augusta County.

Dr. Ward Harshbarger, one of the resident physicians and ambulance surgeons at the City Hospital, has resigned his position, and will leave today to begin the practice of his profession in Weyer's Cave, Augusta county.

Dr. Harshbarger joined the City Hospital staff on June 27, 1910, after graduating with honors from the Medical College of Virginia. He was actively engaged during the whole of his term, and achieved great success in the numerous cases which he was called to attend, both as resident physician and as ambulance surgeon. During his term he has treated hundreds of varied cases, and many of his former patients will remember him with gratitude.

Though the Committee on Relief of the Poor has not yet taken official action in regard to Dr. Harshbarger's resignation, it has been generally agreed that he will be allowed to go without formality, it being necessary for him to establish himself in his practice as soon as possible. The resignation will be formally acted upon and accepted at the regular meeting Monday night.

It has already been decided that the vacancy shall be filled by the appointment of Dr. H. H. Simmerman, also a graduate of the Medical College of Virginia.

VERDICT OF $7,000.

Judgment for Defendant in Damage

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Amherst, Va., May 11.—Judge B. T. Gordon was here this week to hold a special term of the Circuit Court of Amherst county. Court was in session only one day. The case of John T. Goodykuntz vs. M. Valz was tried. This was a suit for damages brought by Goodykuntz against Valz for personal injuries. Valz is the contractor who built the spur line of the Norfolk and Western Railway, leading to the epileptic colony in this county. Goodykuntz was injured by the train master for the Norfolk and Western Railway, and was injured by a discharge of dynamite put off under the direction of Valz. The jury gave a verdict for $7,000. This, however, is subject to a demurrer to the evidence, which has not yet been disposed of.

Mundy Bros. today completed their contract for the construction of twenty-two miles of macadam road in Amherst county. The work of building the road began in the late summer or fall of 1907, and the same has been in process of construction for a little over three years.

The town Council of Amherst, at a meeting, enacted an ordinance to the effect that no vehicle should travel more than six miles an hour within the corporate limits. This ordinance applies to automobiles as well as to vehicles drawn by horses.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Winchester, Va., May 11.—A large dental vulcanizer exploded this afternoon in the workroom adjoining the office of Dr. Walter D. Myers, severely injuring the dentist and his porter, William Lewis, both of whom were knocked down and rendered unconscious by flying pieces of steel. Physicians dressed their injuries.

The force of the explosion was so great that the workroom was wrecked, many panes of glass on the second and third floors blown out, and pictures knocked from the walls in the operating room. Several pieces of vulcanizer plowed through partitions, while others were buried in plastered walls.

Fredericksburg.

Fredericksburg, Va., May 11.—Thirty-two officers of the Army War College at Washington and general staff of the United States Army, with students of the college and a large detachment in charge of the horses and wagons, are in camp just west of the city, and officers and students are making daily rides to points on the battlefields around the city, where the officers deliver lectures on the principal battle at that point to the students. These lectures are of great interest, and are both entertaining and instructive. The officers and students are on a forty days' trip. A considerable portion of the time will be spent at and near Fredericksburg.

The election of a Mayor of the city of Fredericksburg will not take place until June, 1912, more than a year off, the question of a suitable candidate is already being discussed by many citizens. Mayor H. Lewis Wallace, the present Mayor, will not be a candidate for re-election. The friends of Colonel E. D. Cole have been urging him to stand for the position, and it is extremely probable that he will be a candidate. E. M. Young, a member of the City Council, and a prominent young business man, is also spoken of in connection with the position.

The City School Board has elected the following teachers for the white public schools for next season: Primary grades, Miss Basil Baker, of Norfolk; Townes, of Charlotte county; Miss Mary Kippes, of Montgomery county; Miss Carrie Hunter, of Appomattox county; Miss Nettie Montgomery, Miss Selma Uman, Grammar grades, Miss Maggie Honey, Miss Agnes Roach, Miss Flora Mason, of Fredericksburg; Miss Clarice Davis, Miss Lizzie Courtney, High School, Miss Cora Cole, Miss Page Waller, Miss Edith Hayden, of Manassas; E. F. Birchhead, of Louisa, principal.

Five of the present teachers did not apply for re-election, having other work mapped out. The next session will begin September 11, and close May 25, 1912. The teachers for the colored schools will be elected later.

H. B. Lane, E. M. Young and S. W. Somerville, representing the City Council, and C. O'Connor Goodrick, C. W. Jones and Isaac Hirsch, of the Business Men's Association, of this city, left here today for Staunton to confer with officials and citizens there and inquire into the merits of the commission form of government, which has been in vogue in that city for several years. Upon their return these two committees will submit reports to their respective bodies.

Captain R. S. Knox, who has been spending his furlough here with his family, received yesterday a telegram from General F. D. Grant, commanding the department of the East, ordering him to Mount Gretna, Pennsylvania.

for duty as instructor at the camp of military officers of the State of Pennsylvania.

Professor E. H. Russell, president of the Fredericksburg State Normal School, will deliver the address at the commencement exercises at the High School at Cape Charles May 15.

The Fifteenth New Jersey Volunteer Veteran Association will make its annual pilgrimage this year through a portion of Virginia. It will leave New Jersey next Monday for Washington, leaving Washington Tuesday, and will arrive here on a special train at 8:30 P. M. The men will be joined here by Captain M. B. Rowe, of this city, and the party and the special train will then proceed to Richmond, and from there they will extend their trip to Old Point, Norfolk, Cape Henry, Virginia Beach, going from Norfolk to Washington by steamer.
